SAD PLIGHT OF LOCAL FARMER

Has an Affliction Which Baffles All the Specialists of the State.

JOSEPH GRAHAM THE VICTIM

Noble Township Farmer May Lie Down Some Night, Never to Waken From Eternal Sleep.

Joseph Graham, one of Noble townships prominent farmers is affected with a peculiar malady that has assumed serious proportions. About eighteen months ago a small enlargement of the glands on the right side of the neck was noticed and it soon began to grow larger. His physician was consulted but could make no satisfactory diagnosis, Rushville specialists were next tried with no better results although some of these prescribed treatment. The case was next submitted to a Fayette county charm doctor but he too was puzzled and not able to name the strange ailment. A few weeks ago the growth appeared on the other side of the neck and has been so rapid that it now is as large as that of the right side. Mr. Graham went to Indianapolis yesterday to consult two of that city's best specialists but returned home much discouraged, the men making the examination, being baffled in their efforts to reach a successful diagnosis. They wanted to make a slight operation on the inside of the throat to determine whether the growth was of a cancerous nature or not. Mr. Graham feared the operation might hasten the progress of the disease and would not consent to have the incision made at that time, although he may decide to do this later. This disease has progressed so far that the tonsils are being forced upward and forward making swallowing very difficult. The shoulders and back are now affected and the doomed man grows weaker each day.

The Indianapolis men told him that the only hope was in the possible results of an operation but did not have strong faith in its success. They told Mr. Graham that any night he was liable to go to sleep to wake no more.

BANKS TO REACH OUT FOR BUSINESS

Local Institutions Will Give Three Per Cent Interest on Time
Deposits.

INCENTIVE FOR BIG ACCOUNTS

Rush county depositors will now receive three per cent on time deposits in the Rushville National bank, Rush County National bank, and the People's Loan and Trust company. All of these local institutions are of the opinion that they can, by this inducement reach out and get business not only from all over the county, but from other counties. Again it will be an inducement for those having money to carry large accounts with the banks and it will be an incentive to increase the number of depositors and their accounts.

LEFT FOR EUROPE TODAY.

JOHN A. WIDAU WILL MARRY

Wedding to Former Richmond Woman Has Been Announced.

The Richmond Palladium says: "The marriage of Mrs. Minnie Weyl and Mr. John A. Widau of Rushville will take place Wednesday, June 30. Mrs. Weyl has formerly made her home in this city and is well and favorably known. Mr. Widau is well known in business circles at Rushville."

CHINAMAN MAY BE IN INDIANA

City Marshal Price Receives Photographs of Murderer Wanted in New York.

BIG REWARD FOR HIS RETURN

Last evening City Marshal Price received photographs, together with descriptions of the two Chinamen wanted in New York in connection with the murder of Elsie Sigel. Since these instructions were mailed by Police Inspector Theo. A. Bingham, of New York City, Chong Sing, who will be the most important witness in the case, has been captured, but Leon Ling, the murderer, remains a fugitive. He is believed to have come west, and may be captured in Indiana. A large reward is offered for his return.

GUNS CLEANED FOR SQUIRREL SEASON

Sportsmen Are Preparing For Open-
July 1—Many Farms Are Posted.

HUNTERS SHOULD BE CAREFUL

One week from Thursday, July 1, the report of the shot gun and the crack of the rifle will be heard in woods and on farms not posted. It will be the opening of the squirrel season which sportsmen all enjoy so much. Hundreds of acres of land in Rush county are posted as being state game preserves. In them no hunting is permitted.

Many farmers have posted their lands prohibiting hunting under a heavy penalty. All nimrods should take pains to learn whether or not the lands they hunt on are posted. They should all do even more than that. They should secure the permission of the owner before entering his lands. A new hunting license is required each year and there has been no recent change in the game laws.

LET IT FOLLOW YOU.

Not the least important thing of your summer trip is to have the Rushville Daily Republican ordered sent to your address while you are away. You will find that you will want to keep up with what is going on at home and the Republican will do this for you. Better than a daily letter from home. Your address will be changed as often as you desire and every attention will be given to see that you get your paper regularly.

WILL SHEPHERD IS HEARD FROM

But This Time we Have a Good Report of the Fellow's Good Intentions.

THE SCOLDING DID HIM GOOD

Working on His Uncle's Farm Now and he Promises to be a Good Little Boy.

A special in the Shelbyville Republican says: William Shepherd, who was released from the Shelby county jail a few days ago, is busily engaged in helping with the work on the farm of his uncle, William Rawlings, west of Rushville. As soon as he was released Shepherd went to Rushville and proceeded to become filled with "fire water," and march about the down-town streets as if he were some hero or owner of a wild west show.

But as soon as Shepherd recovered from the effects of his carousal he saw that he had made enemies, and not friends, by his wild escapade, and now he says that he is going to be good in the future and not act naughty any more. He was given to understand by Marshal William Price that such actions would not be tolerated any more, and the next time he was found in such a condition that he would find himself behind the bars of the county jail, where he would be the guest of Sheriff William King. It seems as if the talk that the official gave to the man had much effect for Shepherd has not been seen in Rushville but few times since, and on these occasions he carried himself as any sane person would. He says that he is going to move to Indianapolis as soon as his parents dispose of their property in Manilla.

CITY PARK HAS NOW TAKEN ON FEW AIRS

Weeds and Grass Are Cut And—Well,
That is About All Just Now.

WHAT OUGHT TO BE DONE

Street Commissioner Havens and a force of men have cut the grass and cleared part of the debris at the city park, giving it a neat appearance. A few benches should be placed in the park now and some of the heavy stones and old logs arranged in rustic fashion. Last Sunday about one hundred people spent most of the afternoon in the park. It is a shame that the city council, supplemented by a few public spirited citizens, cannot see their way clear to spend about one thousand dollars on the park.

REMEMBERED M. C. BURT.

WILSON GOT A LIFE SENTENCE

Connersville Man Convicted of Murdering His Wife—Rush County Men on the Jury.

THE PRISONER NOT DISTURBED

When Sentence Was Read by Judge—
Favored Hanging Man on Circumstantial Evidence.

The jury in the case of John Wilson, charged with the murder of his wife, Maud Wilson, on March 3, returned a verdict this morning in the Fayette circuit court, finding the defendant guilty of murder in the first degree and fixing the penalty at imprisonment for life. Wilson heard the verdict read without showing any emotion, although during the entire trial he had expected a verdict of acquittal.

This was the second trial of the case, the jury in the first disagreeing. The evidence in the case was circumstantial and the attorneys for Wilson will ask for a new trial. The jury retired last night at 11:30 o'clock and the verdict was read this morning at 7:30. It was necessary to hold an extra session of the court last night in order to complete the argument. Ten men on the jury were from Rush county, Judge Gray asking the Rush circuit court to summon a special venire after it seemed impossible to get a satisfactory jury from Fayette county.

One or two of the jurymen were in favor of inflicting the death penalty and voted that way until the last ballot.

ELEGANT FIXTURES MADE BY HOME FIRM

Quartered Oak Furniture for People's Loan & Trust Co. Made on Short Notice.

TURNED OUT BY J. D. CASE CO.

In the spacious room in the rear of the People's National bank the office of the Trust & Loan company, has been fitted up. People here will be surprised to know the class of furniture that the Case Lumber company can turn out, for the fixtures made to match the ones in the banking department were made by that local firm, and made on the short notice of ten days. In addition to the regular department partition, a small room has been constructed which may be used for a private consultation room and a private room for those who wish to examine papers or other documents from the vault boxes.

AHEAD OF THE VAN.

In the Daily Republican today appears the song "My Eloise" from the great New York Hippodrome success. The value of this song can be appreciated when our readers are acquainted with the fact that we are enabled to publish it today and the Chicago Inter-Ocean and the Indianapolis Star have it Sunday.

WILL ELIMINATE DANGER OF FIRE

Beginning This Week Moving Pictures Will be Printed on Non-Inflammable Films.

LOCAL MANAGERS PLEASED

Beginning with the release of the moving picture films of this week a majority of the licensed manufacturers of the United States will issue their pictures on non-inflammable film. This is a much-needed improvement in the moving picture world as it will eliminate all dangers of a fire. This innovation has been looked forward to by five-cent theater owners for several months and is welcomed by them. The local managers will endeavor to secure a regular service of non-inflammable films.

OILERS ARE BUSY BETWEEN SHOWERS

Summer Will Probably Come and go
Before Streets in Business District Are All Oiled.

WEATHER VERY UNFAVORABLE

The summer will probably come and go and all the streets in the downtown district will never be oiled, if the weather man continues to oppose the movement. He has been decidedly against the innovation, since it was first attempted and invariably sends a heavy rain when work is begun on any section of a street, so that it cannot be finished.

The rain, however, does not seem to be particularly injurious to the oil, but stops the work and it cannot be put on while the streets are wet. An almost continuous rain fell for forty-eight hours shortly after the improvement was tried in front of the Daily Republican office and did no harm.

Tom Hiner put on a short portion of Main street above Third this week and had no more than finished the work when rain fell. Curt Lore, who is also in the business, is oiling in Main street, between First and Second. He heats the oil before applying it and says that it will last longer.

BITTEN BY A DOG.

Talbert Marshall, the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Marshall of Blue Ridge, was bitten on the cheek by a dog belonging to Elbert Marshall Thursday morning. The injury is not regarded as a serious one.

FEW "FALLS" THIS YEAR.

Now is the time of year for "fell from cherry tree" stories. Up to the present only five of this kind of stories have appeared in the State papers. That number is not up to the average, but maybe the news gatherers are picking cherries also, and do not have time to learn of such accidents. Have you fallen?

ABE MARTIN IS A BIT SKEERED

They Want Him Here For the Chautauqua, But he Has Buck Age.

MAY BE INDUCED TO COME

Planning a Big "Indiana Day"—Contract With Richmond P. Hobson For One Day.

The local Chautauqua program committee is both elated and down in spirits. First, they are happy because they have closed a contract to have Richmond Hobson, the hero of the Merrimac appear here. Then they received word today from James E. Watson at Washington to the effect that he cannot appear on the local Chautauqua platform or any other, unless he is booked through the Chicago lyceum bureau, who has him under contract. And they have disposed of nearly all the time he cares to take.

They are figuring on an Indiana Day to be the banner day this year. Invitations will be extended to Kin Hubbard, (Abe Martin), Meredith Nicholson, the novelist, Alonzo Rice and Benjamin F. Parker, poets, Mrs. Jessie Wagner, poet and reader, the Bard of Alamo, Herbert Kramer, short story writer, and other State celebrities. It is also planned to have Jesse Pugh of this city appear on Indiana Day and for a platform reader he will tower shoulder and head above the others in mind.

While Kin Hubbard is just a bit bashful and has written a letter declining to appear, it is thought that he will finally be induced to come. It would be his maiden attempt, but he could rest assured of a hearty reception.

On seeing the article which appeared in the Daily Republican this week Mr. Hubbard wrote to Mr. Geraghty here as follows:

I am very grateful for the friendly article in the Republican, but it would be just as impossible for me to appear on the lecture platform as it would be to safely make a high dive from the soldiers' monument. I wish I could as I need the money. I have been wondering where you were hiding. The Republican looks bright and newsy.

NEW PEST MUST BE STAMPED OUT NOW

Agricultural Department is Alarmed
Over Fast Spreading Buckhorn
Weed—Kills Grass.

MUCH OF IT IS IN THIS CITY

There is a pest boldly sticking its head above ground here and which if not stamped out soon, will prove one of the greatest nuisances we have seen for many years. It is a weed called buckhorn and much of it is seen this summer on the grass lawns about the city. It grows "like a weed" and sends forth a seed pod every day. For this reason buckhorn multiplies very fast and soon spreads over the entire lawn, killing the grass and flowers. The agricultural department at Washington is sending out a lot of literature on the subject, warning people to stamp it out as fast as possible. Much of it is seen on North Sexton street, this city.

Rushville is going to boom.

In Just Five Months WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR RESTORER

Grew a Full Growth of Hair On a Bald Head

Here's the Proof

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin, until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first bottle seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly, until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is now fairly covered with hair and it keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.

LATE EVIDENCE ADDS TO PUZZLE

Eastman's Bungalow Reputed
Scene of Revclry.

WAS MRS. WOODILL PRESENT?

According To a Witness Which the Coroner, who is Investigating Tragic
East Shore Mystery Claims To Be Able to Produce, the Letter Left By Man Who is Supposed to Have Slain
Lyman Gage's Ward May Have Something to Back It

St. Michael, Md., June 26.—The last tragic chapter in a story of crime unparalleled in this section of the country was written when the man accused of the heartless murder of pretty little May Edith Thompson Woodill, fleeing in a skiff from a posse of determined, relentless pursuers—stood for a moment facing the men who had cornered him on the waters of a narrow creek, then fired a bullet crashing into his heart and fell a lifeless lump into the bottom of the boat which he hoped would carry him to a landing where flight might be possible.

Taking his fate into his own hands and blotting out untold stories of the death of a girl who had moved in the highest social circles of Baltimore, Washington and Los Angeles—a beautiful, talented girl who had been a protegee of Lyman J. Gage, and of former Governor Frank Brown, of this state—the man known here as Emmet E. Roberts, but who in reality was Robert Emmet Eastman, a failed broker of the Consolidated Stock Exchange of New York, passed beyond the reach of the law, and with his going there vanished the hope of clearing up the motive and the baffling details of this strange tragedy.

In order to investigate clues offered by letters found in Eastman's possession, the coroner has postponed further inquest into the death of Mrs. Woodill. A witnesses has been found who is said to have overheard the voices of persons merrymaking in Eastman's bungalow Sunday night. Among the voices the man is said to have recognized that of Mrs. Woodill.

A letter found on Eastman's body, addressed to Miss Winnie Bradcome, care of Klaw & Erlanger, the theatrical managers, in New York, gave Eastman's ill-sustained excuse for the crime. It was a rambling account of how he had been out in a launch with a party of men and women, all of whom had been drinking to excess with the exception of himself and Mrs. Woodill; of how one of the women in a fit of jealous frenzy had attacked Mrs. Woodill with a wine bottle and killed her; how the remainder of the party had taken flight, leaving him to dispose of the body and how, as a means of escape from all of his troubles the writer had decided to end his life. Eastman asked Miss Bradcome to hurry to Maryland to take charge of his body and his property. The authorities, after a thorough investigation apparently have cast aside this theory of the death of the girl. The first word received from Miss Bradcome conveyed the somewhat baffling information that she knew nothing of a Mr. Roberts or of Eastman. Under further questioning, however, at New York, the woman admitted that she was Eastman's wife. She said they were married in January, 1908, but that she had lived with him only five days.

As for motives, many have been advanced. That Eastman was infatuated with the girl was well known. She, in turn, it would seem, was fascinated by him at times and possibly frightened by his attentions. In a note addressed to "Dear Wobby" declining to see him at the particular time; but not wishing to anger him she said:

"It is only an intermittent delirium, anyhow, and you had better go and wash your dishes."

After this Eastman evidently prevailed on the girl to visit his farm, which was near that of her foster father's, to see the new bungalow which he had built. The girl met Eastman Saturday, was seen to leave the McDaniel wharf in a launch with him and Wednesday her nude body was found floating on the surface of Rose creek, crudely tied to a rope and weighted with iron and bricks.

Mrs. Woodill, the wife of Gilbert Woodill, an automobile dealer in Los Angeles who had been on a visit to her relatives, had intended leaving in a few days to rejoin her husband, to whom she was ostensibly happily married. Jealousy, induced by the fact that she was so soon to go away, is strikingly foremost in the list of theories. The crime may have been meditated or it may have been the result of a sudden frenzy and attack in the lonely bungalow. There were evidences of a struggle in the bungalow—a bloody sheet, some blood stained boards, some half burned clothing—but the real story of the bungalow can never now be known.

Eastman, according to the information received here failed in New York last year, was arrested twice in Chicago last August for grand larceny and since that time had been a fugitive from justice.

"Wall street never witnessed a more complete ruin than I," Eastman is quoted as saying in New York.

WAY TO ESTABLISH BASIS FOR DAMAGES

Indiana School Board Receives a Bit of Legal Advice.

Indianapolis, June 26.—In order to find a basis for ascertaining damages resulting from a refusal of the Macmillan company to continue to furnish the Tarr & McMurray introductory geographies for the public schools of the state, according to the terms of the contract under which the books have been furnished for five years, it will be necessary for the state board of school book commissioners to enter into a contract for introductory geographies at the best price available, according to an opinion delivered by Attorney General Bingham to Robert J. Ale, state superintendent of public instruction and president of the board. The opinion was asked at the request of the board to ascertain whether or not any action which might be taken against the Macmillan company would react to the injury of the state if the board were to advertise and accept additional bids for introductory geographies.

The attorney general gave it as his opinion that the board must use reasonable haste in an effort to provide books to take the place of those being furnished by the Macmillan company under the former contract, as the bond of the furnishing concern would only hold for a reasonable length of time.

The attorney general holds that the old contract is continued, but only for so long a time as until the board shall declare that a revision shall be ordered or a new book contracted for, and that the Macmillan company is required to supply the books at the contract price for only such a period after the five-year contract has expired as is necessary for the board, with reasonable haste, to adopt a book in its place, or continue the same book under a new contract.

"If the board wishes to continue to use an introductory geography," concludes the attorney general, "it must proceed with reasonable dispatch to let a new contract."

AVIATORS MAKE TESTS OF SKILL

Various Flying Machines Being Given Tryouts.

MANY RIVALS OF THE WRIGHTS

The Dayton Brothers Are Not Alone
In Their Daring Attempts to Achieve the Mastery of the Air—Trials at Morris Park Bring Out All Sorts of

Aerial Craft to Undergo the Test
Prescribed By the Aeronautic Society.

New York, June 26.—All sorts of queer looking and strange contrivances for sailing through the air are included in the flying machines entered in the public tests of the Aeronautic society to be held at Morris park today. The society has been liberal in its definitions of practicability. Among the aeroplanes which will fly, or try to fly, today are some that have proved their ability to remain in the air for longer or shorter periods of time and some that will have no chance of raising their inventors' hopes, either literally or figuratively.

Aviation experts regret that neither the Wright nor the Herring machine will be represented in today's flights or attempted flights. The tests of their machine at Fort Myer have kept the famous flying brothers busy, and A. M. Herring has also been engaged in interesting the government in his aeroplane. Of the machines at Morris park the one that carries most of the hopes of the aviators is Glenn H. Curtiss' aeroplane, specially constructed for the Aeronautic society's tests. The preliminary trials of Mr. Curtiss' machine have been satisfactory in the main, and his victory in today's contests would cause little surprise.

Distribution of the Prizes.

The committee of the Aeronautic society in charge of the prize fund will award a $2,000 prize to the machine which has never made a public flight that makes a successful circuit of the Morris park course, about one and three-fourths miles, or that remains in the air ten minutes. For a machine going less than this distance, but 5,000 feet or more, $1,000 will be awarded, or the same amount for remaining seven and a half minutes in the air.

Lesser amounts are to be awarded for lesser distances, but the provision was made that all members of the society who succeed in flying 500 feet will receive prizes of $250.

RIGHTED WRONG

Victim of Alleged Mock Marriage Now
a Lawful Wife.

Indianapolis, June 26.—Fred Raymond Cook of Bedford righted the alleged wrong done Ethel McClellan, the attractive girl who for eight months believed herself to be his lawfully wedded wife, yesterday afternoon, when he submitted to a marriage ceremony to replace the alleged mock ceremony of July 24, 1908.

Incidentally Cook, who is in jail on a serious charge growing out of the alleged deception of the girl, may escape prosecution, and Mrs. Cook is now thanking the Indianapolis Humane society, which extricated her honorably from the position she occupied as a result of her husband's alleged crime. It is said Mrs. Cook expects, however, to file a suit for a divorce and obtain legal separation from the man she twice married, but no longer loves.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

Continued Improvement in Trade and Industry Noted By Bradstreet.

New York, June 26.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: "Improvement is more manifest this week, the mainspring of this being better weather and crop reports and further expansion in the volume of industrial operations. Retail reports are still rather irregular, excessive heat being credited with retarding distribution in some sections, but, on the whole, sales of summer goods have been benefited by more seasonable temperatures. The industries led by iron and steel show expansion of operation, larger output, some wage advances, and more confidence is expressed than at any preceding time since the depression began."

Police Will Investigate.

Muskegon, Mich., June 26.—Alex Bromberg, a millionaire of Chicago, was drowned in White lake, near here, under circumstances shrouded in mystery. A companion who was in the boat with Bromberg claims the man missed an oar stroke and, losing his balance, fell overboard. It is known, however, that Bromberg was a good swimmer, and the police scout the idea of the accident occurring in this way, and are investigating the case today. The boat was less than fifty yards from shore when Bromberg went overboard.

Voted Down Duty On Petroleum.
Washington, June 26.—The senate voted down, 34 to 40, an amendment imposing a duty of one-half of one cent a gallon on crude petroleum.

New York Fashion Letter

BY CATHERINE MANN-PAYZANT.

The Directoire mode has effected the accessories of dress just as it has other parts of the costume.

The girdle and sash are the first articles that particularly show this influence and while it is predicted that towards fall there will be a change in the waistline, the designers and manufacturers have provided such numbers of girdles, sashes and belts in so many varieties that all are bound to be satisfied, for after all there are many women who cannot wear the Directoire models with impunity.

Draped Directoire girdles and softly swathed sashes are shown side by side with trim belts, while elaborate slides, clasps and buckles serve to ornament both. Never was there greater choice in colorings, models and parices.

There are many Directoire and Empire accessories as lovely and as quaint as heart could wish. For instance, the Directoire waistcoat, which has a world of style about it, with its deep V front and long hanging scarf ends. In black satin, lustrous and supple it is perhaps, at its best, though it comes in many of the modish colorings and is obtainable in heavy cordor bengalines as well as satin. The long sash ends are ornamented with various hand made gretots of the braid or the material and passementerie. The latter trimming is excellent as it gives a bit of weight and preserves the soft silk from displacement. The point of closing in these vests is often elaborated by some choice specimen of hand wrought metal buckle set with semi-precious stones. For wear with typical Directoire costumes these vests are quite the chic thing and are excellent indications of the tenacious hold of the present style.

Belts of old brocade and tapestries with buckles covered with the same fabric, are being shown—some in particularly lovely colorings,— and silk woven to imitate embroidery and braidings is to be had in a very large variety of color and design, with buckles to match.

The elastic belts are very chic and often very expensive, because of the beautiful studdings of steel and jet and the beautiful slides and buskles that finish them. Some of these have cabochons of velvet set in with a steel or jet frame work, radiating out in all sorts of designs.

A novelty in the way of leather belts is noticeable in the tendency to make effective use of long narrow leather strips held in place at intervals by handsomely decorated slides either of steel, gold or silver, velvet or tooled leather. One model recently seen had the entire girdle composed of strips of grey suede held in place at the back and sides by gracefully shaped supports of grey velvet embroidered in steel and silk.

Hand-made clasps and buckles are much sought for by the owners of handsome belts and girdles and hand-wrought and unique pieces are often to be picked up at odd shops where individual workers bring their wares.

Among more simple clasps are those made by framing some embroidery or braided motif in a gracefully shaped border of cloth or silver, picked out here and there with mock jewels and beads. For more severe purposes a buckle formed of several rows of soutache with an embroidered button or spiral of the braid in each corner may be used with good effect.

In fancy neckware the styles would seem to be legion. A few models are to be seen and many are the new developments, of old ideas. In this category come the stocks of sheer batiste and lace, finished at the front with a graceful jabot. So long as Directoire styles prevail these dainty neck trimmings are sure to find favor, as they are a distinctive feature of the period of which the present styles are an echo. Prim little bows of ribbon velvet often mark the point where the stock and jabot meet and the craze for metallic gauze effects has brought into prominence coquettish bows of gold and silver ribbon.

The present season has brought out a flood of Irish crochet ties, pendants and tassels. Just now, owing to the growing tendency to exposing the throat many beautifully shaped turnover collars of Irish lace are to be found round in outline with a decided dip in front. This opens up another field of usefulness for this popular lace, either for the entire collar of inseting and edging on a collar of lawn or batiste. There are cuffs to match these low-cut collars and such sets are among the novelties in dainty accessories.

Many little balls and pendants of gold and silver tinsel thread are used to decorate the various sorts of neckwear.

The parasol is a very important detail of a summer costume. Many fashionable women have a full array of them. For the lingerie gown the parasol is in order and this season is more in evidence than ever before.

On a parasol of heavy linen are designs of heavy embroidered padding worked in so skilfully that they look as if they had been woven into the linen. Cluny, Valenciennes and Irish lace insets are beautifully arranged on the panels.

A cover finished around the edge with button-holed scallops or with a hem and with a design in hand embroidery repeated on each panel or on alternate panels, may be elaborate or simple, costly or comparatively inexpensive, according to the pretentiousness of the embroidery design; but a majority of the more elaborate parasols have an embroidery design which near the outer edge is really complicated.

One parasol has an irregular edge trimmed with frills of lace and ornaments of festoons of hand embroideries. There is a great liking this season for embroidery done in color. Color schemes of costumes are repeated in parasols made to accompany those costumes or perhaps the parasol matches the hat in several tones.

For instance, one beautiful parasol intended to complete a blue costume in linen was of the same material and embroidered in trailing vines and morning glories. The flowers were beautifully shaded from the lightest shades to the deepest purple.

Pongee too, is one of the much favored materials and also comes in for its share of embroidery and the same designs are used on these as on the linen parasols, but some of the pongee effects are found with Japanese and Chinese designs. Of course, many of the pongees are dyed to match the costumes, and that is one thing that is so favorable in the selection of the white linen parasol that it can be worn with so many frocks, for there are few dresses but have more or less white in their composition.

Stripes of all kinds usually running horizontally are liked by the parasol makers, and various arrangements of silk are shown in profusion. Tucked parasols are on the counters usually of plain silk bordered by a band of flowered silk. Hand painted parasols are not so popular as they were, though they are also to be found.

Sticks are of all sorts of designs, some of beautiful woods and perfectly plain, others are smooth, ending in carved birds' heads or an animal's head. Some of the handles are plain with large flat knob at the end on which miniature faces are printed and when well done are very beautiful. Another idea is to decorate the handle with a spray of flowers that is twined around the handle. Other very expensive handles are of carved ivory.

A collar if lawn edged with Cluny in Eton shape is one of the fads of the present moment.

The hair should be puffed out more and more, in fact it is necessary if one of the big hats is to set as it should.

There is a new shoe lace on the market with tubular centre and the end with a broad flat ribbon for the good effect in trying.

The newest in lavender or purple shades is called "dust," which has no suggestion of brown in it. Ashes of amethyst is one of the new and fetching shades of the season.

OLD SALT ROUTE IS ONLY REMEDY

For Birds Who Will Persist in Eating Cherries—Protected by Law.

NO LEGAL RIGHT TO KILL THEM

Persons who are having their cherries devoured by birds should remember that they have no legal right to kill them, and it makes no difference whether the offense is committed in town or country. Some boys in the northern part of the State the other day were fined $20 each for killing robins.

The proper way to do during the cherry season is to take a large vessel of salt and go from tree to tree and sprinkle it on the bird's tails. After this they can be easily caught and confined in large cages until the owner has an opportunity to gather his fruit, and then release them. In this way the birds are protected, and it is a better way than paying a heavy fine for killing them.

How to Cure Skin Diseases.

The germs and their poisons which cause the disease must be drawn to the surface of the skin and destroyed.

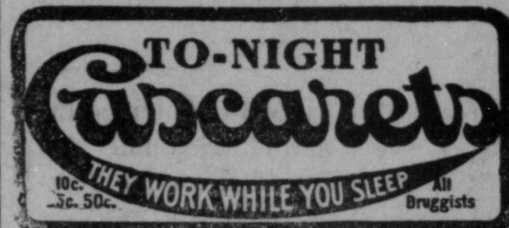

Zemo, a scientific preparation for external use will do this and will positively cure Eczema, Pimples, Dandruff and every form of skin or scalp disease. See photos of many remarkable cures and show case or window display at F. E. Wolcotts drug store. Ask for sample.

We are authorized to announce the name of Houston H. Aultman for Clerk of the City of Rushville, subject to the decision of the Republican nominating convention.

We are authorized to announce the name of Samuel G. Gregg, for re-nomination for Clerk of the city of Rushville subject to the decision of the Republican nominating convention.

CITY TREASURER.

We are authorized to announce that Melvin L. Moor is a candidate for City Treasurer, subject to the decision of the Republican city nominating convention.

FOR MAYOR.

We are authorized to announce the name of W. O. Headlee as a candidate for mayor of the city of Rushville, subject to the decision of the Republican city nominating convention.

The proposition to nominate Roosevelt for mayor of New York is all right, but we have noticed that after a man has led an orchestra he seldom takes a job playing the piano.

Announcement is made that another Democracy has been born in New York City to combat Tammany Hall and restore Jeffersonian principles. Whatever may be accomplished in the first named field of endeavor will be of benefit to the public. To destroy Tammany is of far greater importance than to vindicate Jefferson.

It seems that on "special" occasions even in "closed" towns, the lid is allowed to be tilted a little. German singing societies were guests of Ft. Wayne last Sunday and the saloons were wide open from one to seven. In Cincinnati, where the great North American Turnfest was held this past week, the lid was allowed to be tilted just enough to bring about the same conditions that used to prevail "over the Rhine" years ago. In other words, "everything went."

We have had fireless cookers, and now comes iceless refrigerators. A New York woman, interested in the movement to provide pure milk for children, instructs their mothers that a bottle fresh from the ice will keep its temperature for an indefinite time if it is buried in a box of sawdust. Butter and other articles inclosed in tin boxes, she assures them, may be kept cool in the same way for three days. Not many ways of circumventing the ice man have been found, and this will probably be welcomed.

President Taft's pre-election utterances on the question of platform promises, says the New Castle Courier, are being industriously exploited by the so-called "progressive" Senators in defense of their attitude on sundry tariff propositions.

It is to be noted that the President is not adroit in walking the tight-rope when it comes to redeeming political pledges. In fact, before his candidacy crystallized into an irresistible force, it was urged against his nomination by certain wise-workers that he lacked that fine mental suppleness with which politicians make and discard platform promises, and might not be tractable.

If the "standpatters" can extract comfort from the President's refusal to commit himself further than the simple statements contained in his first message, they are welcome to it. On the other hand, the President's temperamental habit of standing by his word will give hope to the average American, regardless of partisanship, who sees that the country must rely upon the President finally for genuine tariff revision.

Getting News By Telephone

American telephone subscribers are familiar with the uses of the central switchboard operator for the dissemination of news. Any good natured operator will give one the time of day upon request, and in smaller towns one can often find out where the fire is, and whether or not they have caught the man who broke into Squire Miller's barn. But it has remained for Budapest, way off in telephonically barbarous Europe to make the complete use of the telephone as a news bureau.

The scheme is a news service which is turned on at stated times throughout the day. In the morning the day's program is announced so that the subscriber may take up his receiver and listen whenever the things that he is interested in are on tap. There are hours for stock quotations and business news, parliamentary news and weather forecasts. In the late afternoon cafe music is turned on and in the evening opera. Thus does the Budapest telephone company make eavesdropping and gossiping on the wire a source of profit to them, as they charge $7.31 per year (2 cents a day) for this service. It is as if the whole city were on one party wire with everybody else listening to what is going on.

It is not likely that America will soon adopt the Budapest plan. With our newspapers coming out every hour, our "tickers" with business and sporting news, and our omniscient, all-wise American "hello" girls, the need is fairly well met.—Success Magazine.

NEED TRIMMING.

Rushville is getting to be a city of shade trees and the sides of the streets in the residence portions is greatly enhanced by the unbroken rows of trees.

A great many property owners, however, have neglected to trim their trees properly. This should be attended to since in many portions of the city the limbs of the larger trees are entirely too low, in some instances causing pedestrians to "duck" their heads in passing under them.

Helen Kellar

Deaf, Dumb and Blind. The Most Remarkable Woman in the World

Miss Helen Adams Kellar, who is today receiving the congratulations of friends and well wishers in all parts of the world in anticipation of her 29th birthday, is in many respects the most remarkable young woman in the world. Handicapped by both deafness and blindness, she has gained fame as an author of great ability, and has won the admiration of millions by the optimistic spirit which pervades her writings. Looking upon her afflictions as only so many obstacles to be vanquished and overcome, she has now reached the serene heights where she can extend cheerful words and a helping hand to those who, more blessed by nature, are still in the valley of discontent.

Miss Kellar is a native of Alabama, but now makes her home in Wrentham, Mass. She was born in Tusculum, June 27, 1880. On her father's side she is descended from Alexander Spotswood, colonial Governor of Virginia, and through her mother she is related to the Adams and Everett families of New England.

Miss Kellar has been both deaf and blind since the age of 19 months. The loss of sight and hearing followed a severe illness. At the age of 7 her education was taken in charge by Miss Anne Mansfield Sullivan, who continued to be not only her teacher, but her guide and mentor up to the time of her admission to Radcliffe College in 1900. Miss Sullivan took a profound interest in the girl who, despite her infirmities, was able to master any subject she undertook. She took the degree of A. B. at Radcliffe with the class of 1904, standing high in its ranks.

Since that time Miss Kellar has devoted most of her time to writing, being an occasional contributor to the popular magazines. In 1902 she published "The Story of My Life" and a year later, "Optimism: An Essay."

RUTLEDGE IS PROMOTED.

The first application of ManZan, the great Pile remedy, will almost instantly give relief. Continued use of ManZan for a few days will effect a cure. The tube in which it is put up has a small nozzle attached, so that there is no inconvenience whatever. ManZan is for the cure of any kind of Piles. It is sold here by Lytle's Drug Store.

BY THE WAYSIDE

The sheath or "directoire" gown appears to have had its day, but is succeeded by other monstrosities of women's wear that are even worse. The "trouserette girl," the "pantaloon girl," the "balloon gown," and surgical bandage bandeau, are among the latest. Ugliness and audacity seem to be the effects aimed at.

The new and very stringent prohibitory law which goes into effect in Kansas, has revived an old story on the subject. A stranger went into a Kansas drug store and asked for some whisky.

"I can't sell you any whisky," the druggist said.

"But I'm sick," the stranger persisted.

"That won't help any," replied the druggist. "It don't make any difference. I can't sell you whisky for being sick."

"Well, what can you sell it to me for?" asked the stranger.

"The only thing we can sell whisky for in this town," said the druggist, "is for snake bites. Hold up, now, don't ask me where you can get bitten. No use. There's only one snake in town, and he's engaged for three weeks ahead."

According to the Indianapolis Independent Hell's Neck, that interesting part of Indiana where comes canteloupes and pumpkins, muddled miners Hunyacal anarchists and other assortments of the kingdom of cranks, reports itself as undergoing its annual trouble. The waters have flooded things and drowned out half the vegetable, as well as the animal creation, and Hell's Neck is afraid that this year it will not be able to furnish its usual supply of the article from which it gets its first name.

Local Brevities

Rushville is going to boom.

Miss May Sweetman is ill at her home in West First street.

Seven years ago yesterday a disastrous cyclone swept over Indiana.

P. A. Newhouse of North Harrison street is improving from a short illness.

A word to Rushville capitalists: Is your money working for the good of the town?

Rush county farmers are to be congratulated upon the prospects of another "fat" year.

Mrs. James B. Warring is very low with typhoid fever at her home in North Maple street.

The work on S. C. Conner's new residence in North Harrison street, is progressing rapidly.

Mrs. Mary Kiplinger was taken from the Sexton sanitarium to her home today much improved.

The Greensburg base ball club has disbanded and games which were scheduled have been cancelled.

Osa Miller of Alexandria, Ind., is occupying the position at the Norm Norris barber shop, made vacant by Charles Wright, who is suffering with an abscess on his finger.

Rushville is going to boom.

Mrs. Charles Wright is ill at her home in North Julian street, threatened with an attack of gall stones.

John Rutledge is fast recovering from his injuries received when he was struck by a train at New Castle.

Major McPherson of Detroit, will come Monday to assist the local Salvation Army Corps in a big street meeting.

A. N. Newbold, who has been ill for several days at his home in North Harrison street, is not much improved.

Michael Cooning of North Sexton street, who underwent an operation at the Sexton sanitarium Thursday, is recovering.

The old Schrichte residence in South Main street is being moved to a lot in West First street between Harrison and Jackson streets.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson are moving from their home in North Perkins street to the south half of the old Pattison property at the corner of Perkins and Third streets.

Shelbyville Republican: Mrs. Peters, who was operated on at the Kennedy hospital several days ago, is improving, and she will return to her home in New Salem, Rush county, today.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Friday of near Blue Ridge, died Thursday night. Interment took place in the Manilla cemetery Friday afternoon at three o'clock.

A man who was picking cherries "on the shares" for Ben L. Smith, one day this week, went up to the Smith residence, picked his share and left Smith's share on the tree.

A number of farmers are planning to begin cutting wheat next week. Wheat is not very ripe yet, but the seab and fly are bothering it and makes it necessary to harvest soon as possible.

A committee of Osgood citizens are agitating the question of removing the county seat from Versailles to Osgood. This would seem to be a sensible thing to do, as Osgood is situated near the center of the county and on the railroad.

Regular services will be held at the Main Street Christian church Sunday at the usual hours. In the morning Rev. R. W. Abberley will preach on the subject "The Bible Basis of Christian Union" and in the evening on, "Adaptability of the Bible to Man."

The automobile belonging to Carey Patton of Rush county, says the Greensburg News, sent another strange face to "dog paradise" on Thursday evening, when it ran over a pup belonging to Adolph Leimgruber on West Main street. Carey was not aiming to interfere with the dog tax collections in this county as he was in no way at fault. A large dog grabbed the pup just as the auto came along and forced it under the wheels.

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

Councilman Sam Young has invented an automatic train flagging apparatus. It is a small invention and can be carried in the vest pocket. Gives promises of being a big money maker.

A woman living in North Perkins street was visiting a neighbor last night who lives across the street, opposite her house. They were sitting on the front veranda, when they saw a man, acting in a strange and suspicious manner. Of a sudden he turned in and entered the home of the visiting woman. She was frightened half out of her wits and asked that the police be notified by phone. The house was surrounded, and when someone made bold to ask the intruder in the house what he was doing, a head peeped out and wanted to know what all the row was about. It was her husband. That's all the thanks a husband gets for coming home before his usual hour—they take him for a burglar.

The frog hunting germ gets in most everyone's blood and is not at all particular where it lights. The other evening Drs. Charles and Frank Green and Charlie Worth and Will Bowen went out in two automobiles after some of the desirable greenbacks. They all took old clothes along with them so they could wade in the water if necessary. They all made the change, Charlie Green placing his "Sunday-go-to-meeting" shoes back in the machine. They went out after their frogs and returned without much success and somewhat discouraged. Charlie Green began searching for his shoes, but they were nowhere to be found. Will Bowen took off the shoes, which he had been wearing in the water and discovered that they were Green's good ones. Green is now lamenting the loss of a good pair of shoes and says he believes he is "Green-er" than the frogs.

COLORED FOLKS GAVE A GOOD SHOW

Played "Uncle Tom's Cabin" to a Crowded House in Baptist Church Basement.

GOOD MUSIC WAS A FEATURE

The Second Baptist church choir gave a production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" last night in the basement of the church. A large crowd was present and thoroughly enjoyed the evening. For some reason or another the characters of Topsy and Little Eva were omitted, but the strength of the parts of Uncle Tom, Simon Lagree and Marks, the lawyer, sustained the piece. Good music was a feature of the evening.

She dropped her head. "You're bullying me! I don't see why you talk so brutally to me."

"Do you think I'd do it for anything but you?" he asked.

"You are odious, insufferable!" she cried, with a flash of temper.

"Don't you think I know you despise me?" he asked bitterly. And she stared again.

"I do not despise you. If I had stayed at home and grown up there I should probably have been a provincial young woman, playing 'Sweet Genevieve' on the organ for you tonight," she said. "My life has not been that, however, and you have humiliated me from the moment of your arrival here. You have made me ashamed both of you and myself. And now you have some preposterous plan that will shame me again—both of us—once more before these gentlefolk."

There was a bustling without and some loud talking, and Pike smiled wanly.

"I think them gentlefolk are here," he said. As he spoke the door was thrown open, and Lady Creech hurriedly entered, followed by the countess, Horace, Almeric and the earl. The latter bowed sardonically to Pike, and Lady Creech hurried to Ethel with a cry of astonishment.

"My dear child! What are you doing here in this dreadful place with this dreadful person?" she demanded shrilly.

"My dear! Les covenances!" cried madame.

"Ethel! I am surprised! Come away at once!" demanded Horace.

"Oh, I say, you know, Miss Ethel, really!" echoed Almeric. "You can't stay here, you know!"

Pike stopped them with a gesture and said:

"I'm her guardian, and she's here by my authority, and, what's more, she'll stay by my authority."

Horace turned to the earl.

"Lord Hawcastle, will you insist upon Ethel's leaving? It's quite on the cards we shall have a disagreeable scene here."

Hawcastle smiled evilly.

"I see no reason for it. We're here simply for Mr. Pike's answer. He knows where he stands, and he knows where we stand," said the earl suavely, and the American met his smile evenly.

"I reckon you're right so far," he said.

"And your answer will be yes?" asked the earl, but Pike shook his head.

"You're wrong there," he answered, and Hawcastle changed front in an instant.

"Perhaps you are right, Mr. Granger-Simpson," he said. "There may be painful things done. Better your sister were spared them. Take her away."

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.
I will mail, free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—yes, my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourselves at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or White Discharge, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Profuse, Scanty or Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors, or Growths; also pain in head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feelings up the spine, melancholy, desire to cry, hot flashes, nervousness, kidney and bladder troubles, and all weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten day's treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home easily, quickly and surely. Remember, that it will cost you nothing to give the treatment a complete trial; and if you are cured, I will send you my book, "WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says, "You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all old or young. To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Discharge, Painful or Irregular Menstruation in young Ladies, Plumpness and health always result from its use.

East St. Louis, Ill., June 26.—Mrs. Mary Limpf was fatally beaten and cut by a negro who attempted to assault her in her home here.

The negro escaped after another woman, called by the victim's screams, had attempted to detain him. The woman was alone at the time the negro entered her home. He immediately seized her. She struggled and her screams brought aid. When he failed to stifle his victim's cries, the negro struck her over the head with a hatchet. As he fled from the house the second woman seized him, but he knocked her down with his fist and escaped.

In the Atmosphere of Hoosierdom—
Guests of the Studebakers, the Indiana Society of Chicago, Is Today
Enjoying the Time of Its Career.

South Bend, Ind., June 26.—Indiana's sons now living in Chicago came back to the old Hoosier state today. South Bend is entertaining, the occasion being the annual summer outing of the Indiana Society of Chicago. With invited guests, the members of the society are being entertained for the day by the Studebakers, a long list of distinguished visitors being present.

Colonel Charles Arthur Carlisle has been working on the plans for weeks and he had arranged so that the guests would be busy every minute from the time they reached South Bend this morning until late at night. Invitations were sent to Senator Beveridge and Senator Shively, but the call of the tariff was louder.

Among the visitors George Ade was billed to lead the way, even though he is a sure enough Hoosier, and not actually a member of the "ex" class. John T. McCutcheon, George Barr McCutcheon, John C. Shaffer, Wilbur D. Nesbit, Will J. Davis, John Farson, Thomas F. Noyes, Lee D. Mathias and others are "among those present."

The list of events at the Sunnyside golf club, where the festivities proper took place, included everything from foot races, tennis and golf to pitching horseshoes. A "basket dinner" was served in the grove in most approved Hoosier fashion.

PREPARING FOR WORK

New Indiana Board of Accounts Now Ready For Business.

Indianapolis, June 26.—William A. De Hority, chief examiner of the state board of accounts, provided for in the new uniform accounting law, has announced the appointment of Millard F. Cox of this city clerk to the board. By legislative enactment the place pays $2,000 a year, and the appointment, since made by the chief examiner, whose term is indefinite, is not for any specified time. Mr. Cox is a Democrat.

Mr. Cox was assistant reporter of the supreme court for five years. In 1890 he was elected judge of the Indianapolis criminal court and held the place for four years, when he became editorial writer on the Indianapolis Sentinel, a place he held until the paper discontinued publication. Since that time he has been a writer for outside newspapers. He gave up the practice of law five years ago.

When Mr. Cox was assistant reporter of the supreme court he wrote the first daily abstracts of opinions handed down by the court. The board will probably meet early in the week, when a review of the work thus far accomplished will be gone over, and specific plans laid for the work of the immediate future.

He has served time before for the passing of counterfeit money.

THIS AND THAT

The weather man is a back slider, for sure.

Funny how folks who own autos, when they take others for a ride, invite the owners of machines and not the "common people."

Now Shepherd promises to remain down on the farm and care for the flocks.

About that Rush county jury: it seems that all men will do things when they go away that they never will do at home.

At the State House picnic, according to the Indianapolis Star, Lieut. Gov. Hall will climb a greased pole. They will use axle grease this year as hogs and lard are too high.

Nothing makes an old groom look young to a bride like a brand new insurance policy tucked away in the honeymoon grip.

You have to earn health just the same as you do money.

When you talk business, don't try to beat the long-distance conversation record. Brevity is still popular with the listener.

There hasn't been a June Jolt recorded in the entire cherry harvest of the season in Rush county.

Those fadists who think they are having the time of their lives living in a bungalow should be properly called "bungalow-fers."

The cherry season should remind us, my dear children, of the fable of George Washington, who was the first strike-breaker in the Ananias club.

You can "bank" on one thing now—three per cent interest on time deposits.

Abe Martin Says

Abe Martin says today: "Tell Binkley has been on th' water wagon jist a month 'tday. His clothes look baggy but his complexion is clear an' robust. Some fellers git credit fer bein' quiet an' inoffensive when they really in th' mail order business."

ADOPT NEW EMBLEM.

(Greensburg Standard.) The executive committee of the Indiana Lincoln League of Republican clubs has adopted a new button as an emblem of the league, and hopes before the next campaign to distribute 50,000 of them throughout the State. The button is a small affair, bearing a likeness of Abraham Lincoln, surrounded by a small frame or band and with the words, "Indiana Lincoln League." The committee has not decided where the next meeting of the league will be held. Both Columbus and Terre Haute would like to have it.

Rushville is going to boom.
